

Observation of World Diabetes Day on 14.11.2025 by the Department of Endocrinology

The department of Endocrinology has observed World Diabetes Day on 14th November, 2025. Screening camp for diabetes was arranged on ground floor of Superspeciality block in the morning hours with approval of competent authority. Those who were coming to the OPD but not a known diabetic were screened for diabetes. A total of 178 persons were registered, out of which 109 were male and 69 were female. Those who were found to be diabetic, counselling was done by dietician and health educator regarding proper dietary advice and lifestyle modification. Obese persons were also counselled even if they were not diabetic. A Nukkad natak has been done by students of Jamia Hamdard College of Nursing students regarding myths related to diabetes and its complications. At the end an awareness talk with Q&A session has been done. Out of 171 persons screened, 10% were found to be diabetic. Few photographs of the event enclosed.
